

A New Year's Prayer

BY RABBI DAVID WOLPE

"May we believe deeply without despising difference; hope extravagantly without being crushed by failure; take our shortcomings seriously without being discouraged by them; do good for others without calculation and may we love: love without fear, love without narrowness, love without limit. Dear God, help our world to heal and our hearts to grow. Amen."

This prayer also appeared on the Huffington Post.